Functional Brightening/Wrinkle-Correcting Cosmetics

PROPOLIS GREEN

The powerful antibiotics to treat inflammation.

Propolis is produced by honeybees by mixing the saps from various plants with its own saliva and enzymes for survival and breeding. The bees' bodies and hives are kept aseptic with propolis. Honeybees apply propolis to the gaps and internal barriers of the hives to protect them from various pathogenic viruses and external aggressors.

The powerful antibacterial and anti-inflammatory actions of propolis make the inside of beehives safe (aseptic) for safe hatching of larva.

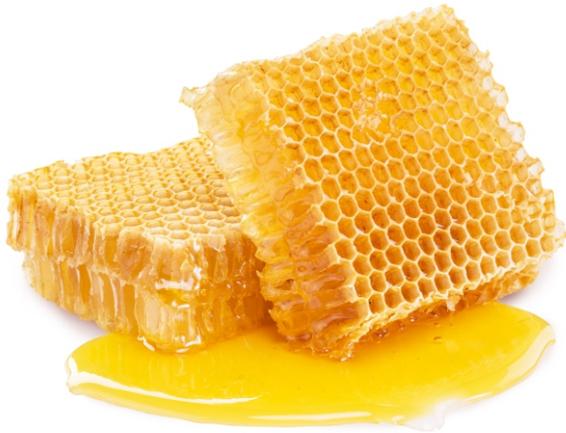

General Propolis

- Natural antioxidants from general honeybees.
- Found in the woods where bees are farmed.
- Contains flavonoids and polyphenols helpful for the skin.

Green Propolis

- Produced by the honeybees in Sao Paolo in the southeastern region of Brazil.
- Extracted from the beehives covered with the resins of Baccharis trees in the clean highlands of Brazil.
- Only type of propolis containing Artepillin C helpful for the skin.

PROPOLIS ^{GREEN} Efficacies

● Antioxidants / Anti-inflammation / Immune system

As a result of testing the anti-ulcer capacities of Artepillin C, Baccharin, Drupanin, Kaempferide, which are the major active substances of Green Propolis, its exceptional anti-ulcer, antioxidant, and anti-inflammatory efficacies have been proven. As a result of testing the antioxidants through DPPH and ABTS, its outstanding antioxidants and immune-enhancing functions have been proven.

● Skin Hydrating Efficacies

In order to measure the moisture-retaining effect of Green Propolis, a Corneometer was used to apply the same amount of sample at the same time and compare the results to prove the exceptional hydrating effect of Green Propolis.
